

CRAIG'S

ROYAL HOTEL

FUNCTION & WEDDING
PACKAGES

Located on historic Lydiard Street in the heart of Ballarat, Craig's Royal Hotel is the legendary Australian gold-rush era Grand Hotel. Built in 1862 on the site of Bath's Hotel, Ballarat's first officially licensed pub. Craig's has been a goldfield icon since Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh joined us in its ornately decorated rooms in 1867 & Dame Nellie Melba famously sang from its balcony in 1908.

Host to Prince, Princess & Prime Ministers over its 160 year history, the hotel is a true icon of the Victorian period. Now, after 5 years of extensive restoration, the magnificent accommodation, dining, meeting & banquet facilities are re-establishing Craig's as the finest boutique heritage hotel in the region.

Our Function Rooms

The Reading Room

Located on the historic Lydiard Street, overlooking Her Majesty's Theatre, the Reading Room boasts an elegant balcony with views of one of Ballarat's most historic landmarks.

Imagine a formal dinner around the antique dining table, a meeting to form a new gold mining company, or cocktails with Nellie Melba prior to a local performance - anything is possible in the Reading Room. Exquisitely decorated & adorned with elegant fixtures, the beauty & grace of this split level room make it a popular choice for sophisticated wedding ceremonies, pre-dinner drinks, & intimate dinners.

The Cellar

Deep under Craig's wonderful edifice is a contrasting bluestone & timber cellar, which in years gone by has set the scene for much joyous imbibing. Now a private setting for dinner parties, mystery nights, wine dinners, 21st Birthday celebrations with a classic rustic feel.

The Cellar is a unique location for a reception or pre-dinner drinks with a difference.

Grand Dining Room

This spectacular & opulent room was decorated in the late 19th century - Empire style with its high ceilings & fine wallpapers. Featuring stunning mirrors gifted to the Hotel after hosting the confederate recruitment ball in 1865.

The Grand Dining Room is the perfect location for an elegant wedding reception.

The Prince's Room

The legendary Prince's room was specially prepared for Royalty in 1867 when Queen Victoria's second son, Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh visited Ballarat. The room is decorated with rich wallpapers & a most magnificent ceiling installed at the beginning of the last century.

Even a simple affair can take on the atmosphere of a regal event in the Prince's room. This room is ideal for wedding ceremonies, cocktail receptions, or an intimate seated function.

The Bentleys Room

Located within the earliest part of the hotel building, dating from the 1860s, is a spectacular venue for dinners & conferences with beautiful Victorian architectural features.

In-house av equipment & restaurant standard catering available, make this an easy choice for your next event.
